FORMER ALDERMAN MILLER FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF BRIDGES

Director Kenny Announces Selection of Most Capable Mechanic for Important Position—Street Superintendent Schreiber Announces Changes in His Force of Subordinates, Morrissey and Dwyer Declining Appointments.

Director of Public Works M. A. Kenny announced this morning that he had appointed John C. Miller superintendent of bridges to succeed Arthur Brown. The salary is $1,020 per annum. A thorough knowledge of electrical work is required to fill the position, and it was largely due to the mechanical ability of Mr. Miller that he was selected. For the past 26 years he has been connected with the Eaton, Cole & Burnham Co. and the Crane Co. For the first 20 years of his service with the concern and up to the time of the abolishment of the contract system he held a contract and since that time he has been a foreman. He thoroughly understands the electric motors and electric power of his department besides having worked upon machinery of every kind. Mr. Miller has served 12 years in the Board of Aldermen as the representative of the Twelfth district, and he acquired himself most creditably. He is a man of mature years. Another appointment announced this morning by the Director was that of Daniel McPadden to succeed himself as inspector of sewer wells and sewer well construction. Mr. McPadden is one of the skilled men in the service of the city and has been in charge of the department for many years. Relative to the appointment of an inspector of excavations the Director said: "I have not appointed an inspector of excavations for the reason that there are other duties at present that I intend shall be added to that position."

SUPT. SCHREIBER'S ANNOUNCEMENTS.
Supt. Frederick Schreiber of the Street Cleaning department announced this morning that he had appointed Leonardo Malnerio, a resident of the Tenth district, to be foreman of the sewer well cleaning squad. This position was first tendered to Patrick Morrissey of the Seventh district, but Mr. Morrissey who is engaged in business did not care to assume it. The appointment of Malnerio will be agreeable to the members of the Italian-American Civic Alliance, of which the new foreman is a member and an officer. Another announcement made by the superintendent this morning was the appointment of John F. Clancy of the North End to be foreman of the street cleaning squad on the west side of the river. He will take the position to which Michael Dwyer was appointed on Jan. 1. Mr. Dwyer is already the holder of a very lucrative position as foreman for the Naugatuck Valley Ice Co., and he chose to retain his former position. Clancy was formerly deputy foreman of the street cleaning squad, and is a most competent man for the place.

SCHRIEBER SHUTS OFF PIPE LINE TO SNOW APPROPRIATION

Conducts Inquiry Into Amount of Snow Moving Done By Conn. Co. On Streets Where It Has Tracks

Supt. Schreiber called a halt today in the work of carting snow off the streets. The appropriation had been disappearing at a lightning pace, and he promised to be exhausted. Former Supt. Colgan had already expended some $4,000 cleaning up after the present storm. Supt. Schreiber made some careful inquiries of the former superintendent relative to the portion of

NOTED AVIATOR CRUSHED TO DEATH BENEATH AEROPLANE

(Special from United Press)
Bordeaux, Jan. 4.—Leon De La Grange, the noted aviator, was killed today by the fall of his aeroplane while making a flight here. De La Grange's machine fell a distance of 50 feet and was completely wrecked. The unfortunate aviator was caught under the machinery. Both legs were broken, his chest crushed and his skull fractured. His body was so badly entangled in the wreckage that it was some time before it could be removed. De La Grange was one of the most

SUNDAY SCHOOL CHINAMAN TRIMMED BY CELESTIAL PUG

CHRISTIAN CHARLIE HELD TO ACCOUNT FOR CAUSING FAN TAN RAID.

Chinese pugilists, few and far between, are said to have a worthy representative in the person of Leung Jick Jung, a waiter and bouncer at one of the local Chinese restaurants, who was tried in the city court today for assaulting Charles King, a Christianized Celestial, several weeks ago, in the laundry of a mutual friend near Main and Grand streets. Jung is known to the police as the "Chinese Fighter," for his pugilistic prowess is often put to good use in the settling of obnoxious patrons of the Chop Suey place. With perhaps pardonable pride he admitted to Judge Wilder today that he had blackened the eye of his adversary, Charles King. The curtain that hides the inner life of the Celestials from the average American was drawn partially aside during the trial of the athletic Mongolian. It was made plain that the Bridgeport Chinese do not regard with much favor the attitude of Mr. King in religious matters. The row is said to have had its foundation in a recent raid upon a Chinese gambling house. The authorities declare their complaint against a Celestial who was fleeced of $1,500 in one of the mysterious card games of the Far East. But the Chinamen who like their fan tan won't have it that way. They blame Christian Charlie. King and Jung encountered quite by chance a couple of weeks ago. The subject of the raid was brought up, Jung says King expressed regret at the occurrence. Christmas holidays were approaching, King said, and the Chinese would have contributed generously to the church Christmas fund only for the gambling raid. From uncomplimentary references to ancestors, the twain came to blows, and Charlie King got a wallop from the bouncer that opened a big gash over his right eye. Streaming with blood he ran out for a policeman. The services of a Chinese student at

MERCY FOR SHOP LIFTERS ON PLEA OF ROBBED FIRM

Counsel for Howland Dry Goods Company Asks Court to Suspend Sentence of Mrs. Katz and Her Mother.

After the Howland Dry Goods Company, through its attorney, C. S. Canfield, had asked for clemency in the case of the shoplifters, Mrs. Bessie Katz and her mother, Mrs. Fannie Bergalsky, the sentence of the city court was affirmed by Judge Walsh in the criminal Common Pleas court, this morning, and the women were confined to the care of the probation officer. Mr. Canfield said to the court that because Mrs. Katz is the mother of two children his client desired to be lenient with her. He suggested to the court that if the women are arrested again that they shall endure their present sentence in addition to any sentence that may be imposed for the new offense. The city court imposed a sentence of 15 days in jail upon Mrs. Katz and of 40 days upon the mother. The women had twice been arrested for shoplifting. They belong to families that are in comfortable circumstances and had no apparent excuse for stealing. AUTO BARGAINS.—Ford Runabout, $225; Touring Car, with top, $350; 35-500 Touring Car, $350. ## DEMANDS ON CITY'S TREASURER FOR 1910 ALMOST REACH $2,000,000 MARK

State Tax, Which Must Be Raised, Demands an Addition of One Mill to the Rate and Appropriation for New School Houses Requires Another Mill—Health Board's Demand for $64,000 to Buy Garbage Reduction Plant Will Certainly Be Cut Out.

The requisitions now in the hands of the City Auditor call for appropriations of $1,828,000. This is $400,000 more than the total appropriations for 1909, which were $1,428,000. The above figures do not provide the appropriation for the state tax, which will be $84,000 and an expense which cannot be avoided. The total amount of the figures to be submitted to the Tax Board will therefore reach almost two millions, or $1,902,000, with some small items yet to be heard from. The income of the city from "other sources" in the last fiscal year was estimated at $292,000. This fiscal year it will not exceed $300,000. Therefore the amount which would have to be raised from taxation, if all the sums sought were appropriated, would be about $1,600,000. To raise this sum upon a grand bill of $85,000,000 would demand the imposition of a 18 mill tax, one mill of which would be solely to meet requirements of the state tax. Doubtless there are demands which will be pruned out, such as the requisition of the health board for $60,000 with which to purchase the garbage plant and improve it. The fire department also asks for $78,000 in excess of the ordinary appropriation. Inasmuch as there is a general feeling that the fire department has already been generously treated it is improbable that the new demands of the outgoing board will be honored in full.

WORKMAN'S THROAT FATALLY TORN IN FALL FROM LADDER

Hans Iverson, aged 45, an employee of the Connecticut Company, employed at the Barron avenue car barn, was probably fatally hurt at the barn just before 8 o'clock this morning when he lost his footing on a ladder 10 feet above ground and fell into a heap of scrap iron. He struck heavily on his head and when he was extricated from the metal it was found that his throat had been dangerously wrenched and torn.

Taken to the Bridgeport hospital in the ambulance, he was found in a critical condition, and at press hour this afternoon there was little hope for his recovery.

SUIT OVER ALLEYS

Dudley Alleged that Pettigrew Agreed to Buy Three Alleys—Court Reserves Decision.

Alfred P. Dudley, proprietor of the Arcade Bowling alley, and Charles C. Pettigrew, formerly associated in the management of bowling alleys in John street, and who have since dissolved partnership, are at odds over the disposal of three alleys which have since been taken out of the John street place. Dudley is the plaintiff in a suit for $900 against Pettigrew heard before Judge Scott in the Common Pleas court this morning. Dudley claims that he was compelled to take over the three alleys at his place of business to make way for a moving picture place. Pettigrew promised to buy the alleys, but that he was to try and get a purchaser for them. He did try but did not succeed. He also intended to buy them himself, if he could get a place in Danbury, but the place could not be found. The alleys are now in storage. The court reserved its decision. There is a predominance for the three-trimmed velvets for cold weather wear.

IMPRESSIVELY DEDICATED

WATERBURY LODGE OF ELKS HAS ONE OF FINEST LODGE ROOMS IN EAST.

Dedictory Ceremonies Witnessed by Immense Throng—Banquet at Elton Prior to Lodge Exercises—Supper Served to Several Thousands at New Home of Lodge—Many Choice Gifts.

Waterbury, Jan. 4.—Waterbury lodge of Elks last evening with fitting ceremonies observed the dedication of its new lodge home. Thousands of Elks from all parts of the state and others from outside the Connecticut jurisdiction attended. The home of the lodge was elaborately decorated. The new lodge building is of brick, in the rear of the home and in all respects is one of the most modern institutions of its kind in the East. The lodge room was thrown open for the first time last evening and while it is large and spacious hundreds of visiting members who desired to obtain admission to the ritualistic ceremonies found it impossible to enter.

The dedication of the new lodge was in charge of District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler George I. Allen of Middletown. Past Exalted Rulers Joseph C. Ivers and Louis Broch of this city occupied stations of honor. The dedication address was by former Governor James H. Higgins of Rhode Island and was a most brilliant e. o. r. Bridgeport Lodge came to Waterbury in a special train composed of 150 strong and made a first class appearance. The Park City boys are prime favorites with their Waterbury brethren and they proved to be the life of the occasion. The Park City lodge presented their Brass city brothers with a magnificent silver service, one of the finest gifts ever given by one lodge to another. The Waterbury boys were delighted with the remembrance of their Bridgeport brothers and all during the evening sang their praises. The transportation committee of Bridgeport lodge comprised Oswald Frantzen, Hugh Lavery, Matt J. Maloney, Pete Musante and Dr. Phil McLaughlin and they had their arrangements so well in hand that what was a special train left the Waterbury station promptly at the time advertised only a small percentage of the visiting guests were able to enter the hall. These and these took an early morning train for home.

The grand lodge member present was Edward Lee, grand treasurer. Grand Grand Esteemed Leading Knight John D. Shea, was also on hand. Every E. K. present was made to feel at home and the committees of Waterbury lodge in charge of the visitors did themselves proud. It was a great occasion for Elksdom in Connecticut.

SNOW COMING BY WEDNESDAY

(Special from United Press.)
Washington, Jan. 4.—Heavy snow will set in over the Lake region and the middle and northern New England states today and will begin in the middle Atlantic and New England states by Wednesday, according to a special bulletin issued by the Weather Bureau.

New Haven, Jan. 4.—Forecast: fair and continued cold tonight and Wednesday.

An extended of high pressure over the northern sections is producing pleasant weather with low temperatures in the Lake region and the Rocky Mountains eastward to the coast. It was below zero in the upper Mississippi valley, the western portion of the Lake region and the northern portion of New England. A disturbance central in western Texas is causing cloudy weather with light snow or rain in the southwest. Fair weather with low temperatures for two or three days.

D. A. R. LUNCHEON AT STRATFIELD

MOUNT REGO FARM GOES UP IN SMOKE.

Meriden, Jan. 4.—Mount Rego farm, the palatial country home of J. A. Kraus, of New York, in Baileyville, Middlefield, was destroyed by fire last night. The loss is $25,000.

MORGAN CONTROLS BILLIONS

AGED MONEY KING MAKES LONG LEAP TOWARD ABSOLUTE CONTROL OF MONEY RESOURCES OF THE NATION.

TOTAL OF HIS HOLDING PILES INTO SUMS THAT SURPASS WILDEST DREAMS OF ARABIAN NIGHTS.

LIST OF BANKS, TRUST COMPANIES, INSURANCE CONCERNS, RAILROAD AND INDUSTRIAL CORPORATIONS IN MORGAN DOMAIN.

(Special from United Press.)
New York, Jan. 4.—Business circles are catching their breaths today and recovering from the announcement that the J. P. Morgan interests have captured Levi P. Morton's Trust Company, in which Thomas Fortune Ryan, the dethroned street railway king of New York was a powerful factor; the Fifth Avenue Trust Company and the Guaranty Trust company and that they are to be relegated to oblivion while in their stead is to be erected the new Guaranty Trust Company, the second largest trust company in the world with a total capitalization of $5,000,000, but with resources of $170,000,000. Levi P. Morton, once vice president of the United States is to be the chairman of the board of the new trust company but the company will be a Morgan company, with all that that implies. What does it all mean? It is the question that is being asked on all sides. The eclipsing of Ryan has come fast on the revelations in connection with the manipulation of the traction companies of New York by Ryan and his associates, and Morgan has in nearly every instance taken over the Ryan holdings. First to pass were the shares controlling the Equitable which E. H. Harriman would have owned had he lived. Other securities passed and finally, purchasing the Ryan shares in the Morton Trust Company, Morgan was able to manipulate the newly announced deal and today can, if he desires, wear the smile of the cat that swallowed the canary. Morgan has time and again been referred to as the money king of America but he never more deserved the title than he does at the present moment. Here are the known concerns which he either owns outright or controls through influence:

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES AND INSURANCE CONCERNS.

National City Bank, (Standard Oil cont'd), 280,447,971
New York Trust Co., 66,151,570
Standard Trust Co., 18,450,100
Railroad and Industrial Corporations of which Morgan either owns the giant share of the securities or dictates the policies:
Southern Railway, $466,699,877

General Electric, 80,101,600
American Telephone & Western Union, 515,073,200
United Dry Goods Co., 20,000,000
Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, 66,500,000
Interborough Rapid Transit, 180,192,000
Hudson Manhattan Co., 57,474,000
Brooklyn Rapid Transit, 125,000,000
Group of railroads in which Morgan controls nominal ownership but which are manipulated through his banking house, 3,555,104,638

With a total of more than ten billion dollars in resources in the above companies, Morgan, it is claimed in financial circles, can do about as he pleases with the finances of the country no matter what contrary legislation is enacted by Congress and there is a general wondering in Wall street today as to where the aged financier is going to get off. Closer control of banks and stricter regulations in connection with their management were the suggestions Morgan made when he was asked at the time of the panic of 1907 what remedy there was for the panic and judging from recent developments he has set out to secure the closer control at any rate. The terms on which the merger of the Morton, the Guaranty and the Fifth Avenue Trust was made will not be announced until tomorrow.

Christmas Excises Cases Continued

The Law Enforcement League's two Christmas Eve law alleged violations involving William J. Heaphy and James L. Mulaney, were not brought up in the city court today. Judge Wilder consented to a continuance until next Tuesday. Alex. Nickerson, colored, charged with theft of $75 from Coester Bros' grocery store, will be tried tomorrow morning. He still protests his innocence, and has retained Attorney F. B. Fallon to defend him.

RAINFALL OF 1909 AND 1908 18 INCHES BELOW AVERAGE AS RECORDED DURING 36 YEARS

These Were Twin Years for Weather -- But Exceeding Dryness Was Their Chief Characteristic.

As like as one twin unto his brother twin was 1909 to 1908 in the grade of weather that it furnished. So show the statistics carefully kept by William Jennings, weather observer. Both of these years were dry years. Their dryness is their most conspicuous characteristic. The total precipitation was a little over 42 inches. Total precipitation includes both rain and snow reduced to terms of water lying level over the entire surface considered. The average rainfall for 36 years has been 61 inches, so that the shortage in each year is about nine inches. The distribution of the rainfall in 1908 was so timed that no water famine occurred, or at least the water famine, referring to public drinking supplies, was of less extent than in 1909. The maximum high temperature for 1909 came on July 6 when the mercury rose to 96. The same temperature occurred on the same day in 1908 and was the highest. The minimum temperature was 1 above in both years, but the little drop to almost zero took place on Dec. 31, in the more recent year, and on Feb. 5 in 1908. The average temperature in both years was 51 and the greatest range in both years was 97. Both rain and snow were deficient in each. There was a little more than 33 inches of snow in 1909 and 30 inches in 1908. The average snowfall for 36 years is 44 inches. December showed a mean temperature of 30, which made it some two degrees colder than the average December. The hottest day showed 55 degrees and the coldest 4 degrees. The total precipitation was 4.43 inches. Of snow 14.2 inches fell.

D. O. MILLS' SUDDEN DEATH IN FRISCO

Father of Well-Known Banker and Mrs. White-law Reid.

(Special from United Press.)
San Francisco, Jan. 4.—Arrangements are being completed today for the funeral of D. O. Mills, banker philanthropist of California, who died suddenly last night at his country home, Millbrae, in San Mateo county. Ogden Mills, son of the banker, was on his way to New York but was intercepted by a telegram. Mr. Mills, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. White-law Reid, wife of the United States Ambassador to Great Britain, arrived in California six weeks ago to spend the winter months. His health has not been of the best for several years, but there was no expectation that anything serious would result until Sunday when Ogden Mills left for New York. Sunday night Mr. Mills complained to Mrs. Reid that he was very tired and started to retire. He collapsed suddenly and medical aid was hastily summoned. When the doctor arrived, however, Mr. Mills was dead.

Mr. Mills was one of the original "49ers", going around the Horn to San Francisco in 1849 and for years he was a conspicuous figure in Pacific coast affairs. He established the banking house of D. O. Mills & Company in Sacramento, after making his initial "stake" as a merchant in a mining camp and since that time his firm has had a good portion of the financial business of the State. He was married in 1854 but his wife, who was Jane Templeton Cunningham, died in 1888. He survived by two children, Mrs. White-law Reid, wife of the proprietor of the New York Tribune and Ogden Mills, who has taken his father's place in his many large business enterprises.

PERSONAL MENTION.
Mr. Bernard Sullivan, manager of the Dramatic association of the Catholic Summer School at Cliff Haven, N. Y., is in town for a few days visiting a number of his friends.

SOLD M'NEIL HIS OWN GOODS

When Prosecuting Attorney DeLaney heard an outline this morning of the nature of the offense for which Nicholas Fagan and Edward Sullivan, a foreman and a coal heaver, respectively, at the yards of the A. McNeil & Sons Co. are held, he asked Judge Wilder of the city court to hold them in lieu of bail. The two are held on the specific charge of theft of a harness, but just what disposition will be made of the case depends upon the outcome of a third arrest expected today, and subsequent investigation.

That Fagan and Sullivan, with the aid of one Abe LaMott, a peddler of Kosutis street, managed to sell to Roderick McNeil, the superintendent of the coal yards in East Bridgeport, a new harness that already belonged to the firm, is the statement of Sullivan, whom the police regard as a dupe in the hands of Fagan. Today Prosecutor DeLaney issued a warrant for the arrest of LaMott and Fagan. Judge Wilder would have fixed the bond at $100. Judge Wilder remanded Fagan in bail of $1,000 and Sullivan $300. Sullivan lives in Cedar street, while Sullivan's address is Booth street.

Drastic Method Employed to Keep New Year's Pledge

Judge Wilder invoked a drastic method of enforcing a total abstinence New Year's resolution in the city court today. Walter Dorman of 75 Huron avenue, was charged with assaulting his brother-in-law, C. B. Fink, of 71 Huron avenue. Admitting he was drunk when the row occurred, he declared he had taken a New Year's resolution to "quit the booze." "Well, I'll sentence you to jail for 60 days," said Judge Wilder. "But won't you send me up until you take drink. I'll place you under the table for a year." The fine means "third arrest for you."

Any time within a year the probation officer is privileged to turn Dorman over to the police, who must promptly take him to jail to serve sixty days. He left the court room declaring he would cling to the wagon with a grip of death.
